Reddaway Named Western LTL Carrier of the Year by GlobalTranz

CLACKAMAS, Ore., May 15, 2012 /PRNewswire/ -- (NASDAQ: YRCW) — Reddaway has received the 2011 Western LTL Carrier of the Year honors from GlobalTranz, a leading logistics management firm specializing in carrier, supply chain and warehouse management.

The GlobalTranz award program recognizes suppliers for exceptional performance and quality. To determine award recipients, GlobalTranz agents and representatives rated carriers on six key criteria: on-time pickup, on-time delivery, driver courtesy, claims and damages, billing accuracy and customer service.

"We take special pride in this award because it is presented for surpassing the high standards of performance set by GlobalTranz," said Steve Selvig, vice president of sales and marketing for Reddaway. "Our relationship with GlobalTranz is built on providing the best regional transportation services available backed by superior customer service. This award reflects our commitment to making every shipment a priority. Congratulations to the entire Reddaway team for their efforts."

GlobalTranz ranked Reddaway best in the west; among central carriers, Holland ranked as the top performer in the annual carrier awards program.

This is the second time Reddaway has received top honors from GlobalTranz. In 2009, GlobalTranz named Reddaway its regional carrier of the year.
