

YRC Worldwide Regional Companies Successfully Re-Validate Certification in the U.S. Customs-Trade Partnership against Terrorism (C-TPAT) Program

All eligible YRC Worldwide subsidiaries continue to provide customers with a more secure supply chain, faster Canadian border crossing

OVERLAND PARK, Kan., Nov 24, 2009 /PRNewswire-FirstCall via COMTEX News Network/ -- YRC Worldwide Inc. (Nasdaq: YRCW) announced today that its regional subsidiaries Holland, Reddaway and New Penn have successfully completed their re-validation in the U.S. Customs-Trade Partnership against Terrorism (C-TPAT) program. Participation in this and other programs for shipment security provides customers with faster border clearance for their goods in addition to a more secure supply chain, dedicated lanes and a strong U.S.-Canadian Customs partnership.

All eligible YRC Worldwide subsidiaries, including YRC and YRC Reimer in Canada, are border-security compliant and certified in the C-TPAT program as well as the Canada Partners in Protection (PIP) program; the Free and Secure Trade (FAST) program of the Canadian and U.S. governments; and the Customs Self-Assessment (CSA) program. Holland was the first YRC Worldwide transportation provider to receive the C-TPAT certification.

"As an industry leader, YRC Worldwide is at the forefront of the changes taking place at North America's borders," said Mike Smid, president - YRC Inc., and chief operations officer - YRC Worldwide. "We see a greater responsibility not to simply stay current with certifications, but also to help evolve the standards. We've worked with federal agencies to develop transportation requirements for programs - like C-TPAT - that improve supply-chain security while keeping our borders open to legitimate trade."
